

Unlocking the Keys to Effective Communication GAP SCIENCE WEBINAR

COURSE DESCRIPTION:

Good communication is essential for a successful and productive forensic unit, and yet training for forensic professionals to improve their communication skills is often overlooked. Implementing communication training could have a great impact on reducing the majority of issues within the unit, such as decreased performance, errors in casework, personality conflicts, missed deadlines, and confusion amongst team members.

Learn the best communication pathway, how to change your approach with different DISC behavioral styles, and how to improve your non-verbal communication skills.
